REUNIONS

Class Reunions

The life-long friends you made and the good times you shared with classmates during your three-year journey through UB Law deserve to be remembered, and celebrated, at a class reunion. To encourage graduates to hold reunions, the Law School and Alumni Association gladly provide address lists, send out mailings, arrange for a photographer to take a class picture and forward a print to each attendee. We also offer advice and do whatever else we can to help would-be reunion organizers. Alan S. Carrel, associate dean, and Ilene Fleischmann, executive director of the Alumni Association, welcome calls and letters from classes planning future reunions. Contact either of them at (716) 636-2053, or write to them at John Lord O'Brian Hall, Buffalo, N.Y. 14260.

CLASS OF 1961

The Class of 1961 celebrated their 30th reunion on the week-end of Sept. 27 to 29, 1991. Peter Notaro hosted a party Friday evening. Saturday night, 33 classmates and their guests dined at The Buffalo Club, on Delaware Ave. Hard-working committee members included Mickey Buckley, Bill Casilio, Dee Cummings, Stu Gellman, Dick Gordon, Joe McCarthy, Mickey NeMoyer, Peter Notaro, Elaine Salvo and Paul Weaver.

CLASS OF 1962

The Class of 1962 celebrated their 30th reunion May 1, 1992 with a dinner at the Marriott Hotel, in Amherst, N.Y. Fifteen classmates gathered to reminisce about "the good ole days." Representing the Law School were Dean Jacob D. Hyman (who was their dean), Prof. Wade Newhouse and Alan S. Carrel. Dean Hyman reminded them that their class was special because they were the last to graduate from the private University of Buffalo Law School before it joined the state university system. Keeping with class tradition, each classmate told a story after dinner. "The stories were testimonials to the closeness that has survived these 30 years and, in some cases, has grown stronger," said Phillip Brothman, chairperson of the event. Brothman was aided by Marvin T. Dubin and Hon. Norman J. Wolf, Jr.

The first organized reunion of all minority alumni of the Law School was held last summer. The week-end was co-sponsored by the UB Law Alumni Association and the Minority Bar Association of Western New York.

At a Friday night, black-tie awards/dinner dance, the keynote speaker was J. Mason Davis. He is a prominent attorney from Birmingham, Ala. and a 1959 graduate of UB Law. Bradford Barneys '91, of Williamsville, N.Y., received the Minority Bar Association's John L. Hargrave Scholastic Achievement Award. Barneys is now an associate at the Buffalo law firm Jaeckle, Fleischmann & Mugel.

The reunion also featured two Saturday workshops. The Hon. Samuel L. Green, State Supreme Court Justice, Appellate Division, Fourth Dept. spoke on appellate practice and procedure. Another workshop focused on the Law School's Legal Methods program.

A picnic followed at Akron Falls Park.

According to Hon. Rose H. Sconiers, chair of the reunion steering committee, "It gave each of us that rare opportunity to get reacquainted with old law school friends, to catch up on all the latest happenings, and to generally have a festive time."

Serving with her on the alumni committee were Hon. Samuel L. Green '67, Debra L. Givens '87, William G. Hamilton '73, Juan E.

Irene '81, Jerry McGrier '80, Tearah G. Mullins '86, E. Jeannette Ogden '83, and Oliver C. Young '80.
